their individuality and modernity

at the beginning of the twentieth century the tropes of messianism apocalypse and redemption which had been so central to the west's religious formation seemed spent forces in germany nietzsche had pronounced god as dead and theology seemed to be travelling the same secular route as philosophy but world war i changed that this book introduces some of germany's key thinkers in theology philosophy literature and social and political thought through their engagement with these previously discarded concepts they initiated a new and urgent dialogue between philosophy and theology this imaginative and innovative collection brings together essays by established scholars on messianism redemption and apocalypse in twentieth century german thought major theologians such as barth buber bonhoeffer rahner pannenberg and moltmann are discussed alongside leading intellectuals such as adorno benjamin bloch heiddeger and rosenzweig literary figures such as kafka and george are also included the interfaces imply a different way of reading theology and challenge the reader to think what the implications of immanence in a specific philosophical culture are for the theological project some of the essays introduce thinkers who are little known to english speaking readers others cast new light on more familiar figures the collection as a whole contextualises german religious and philosophical thought on these crucial topics in very useful ways the dialogue at work in these pages is a very important one and should be carried further
